

HUNTINGDALE GOLF CLUB

AUSTRALIAN MASTERS 9 – 16 NOVEMBER 2009

Due to the large number of reciprocal enquiries for bookings we have received for the week of the Australian Masters (Monday 9th November – Monday 16th November 2009), we have unfortunately had to make the tough decision not to take any more reciprocal bookings for that week. Any reciprocal members who have already booked with us will not be affected by this decision.

This decision has been made to ensure that all Members have the opportunity to access the golf course during what is shaping as an extremely busy week for the Club. Tiger's pulling power is certainly turning out to be unprecedented and we need to ensure that there are times available to accommodate our own Members and their guests during this busy time.

We would really appreciate you advising your Members of this decision as soon as possible in order that they can make alternative arrangements if they are looking to play golf during this week.

Thank you for your continued support and we appreciate your understanding with this matter.

Yours sincerely,

Stewart Fenton
